similarly situated,

Plaintiff,

- vs. -

ABC Corp. d/b/a La Trattoria,
Fady Tawadrous, Samy
Tawadrous, and John Does #1-10,

Defendants.

DOCKET NO. 18-cv-3248

COMPLAINT

Plaintiff Fernando Baten, by and through his undersigned attorneys, for his complaint against defendants ABC Corp. d/b/a La Trattoria, Fady Tawadrous, Samy Tawadrous, and John Does #1-10, alleges as follows, on behalf of himself and on behalf of all other persons similarly situated:

NATURE OF THE ACTION

1. Plaintiff Fernando Baten alleges on behalf of himself and on behalf of other similarly situated current and former employees of defendants ABC Corp. d/b/a La Trattoria, Fady Tawadrous, Samy Tawadrous, and John Does #1-10, who elect to opt into this action pursuant to the Fair Labor Standards Act ("FLSA"), 29 U.S.C. § 216(b), that they are entitled to: (i) compensation for wages paid at less than the statutory minimum wage, (ii) unpaid wages from defendants for overtime work for which they did not receive overtime premium pay as required by law, and (iii) liquidated damages pursuant to the FLSA, 29 U.S.C. §§ 201 et seq., because defendants' violations lacked a good faith basis.

2. Mr. Baten further complains that he is entitled to (i) compensation for wages paid at less than the statutory minimum wage; (ii) back wages for overtime work for which defendants willfully failed to pay overtime premium pay as required by the New York Labor Law §§ 650 et seq. and the supporting New York State Department of Labor regulations; (iii) compensation for defendants' violations of the "spread of hours" requirements of New York Labor Law; (iv) liquidated damages pursuant to New York Labor Law for these violations; and (v) statutory damages for defendants' violation of the Wage Theft Prevention Act.

THE PARTIES

3. Plaintiff Mr. Baten is an adult individual residing in the Bronx, New York.

4. Mr. Baten consents in writing to be a party to this action pursuant to 29 U.S.C. § 216(b); his written consent is attached hereto and incorporated by reference.

5. Upon information and belief, defendant ABC Corp. d/b/a La Trattoria ("La Trattoria") is a New York corporation whose corporate name is unknown to Mr. Baten but which does business under the name La Trattoria, with a principal place of business at 844 Second Avenue, New York, New York.

6. At all relevant times, defendant La Trattoria has been, and continues to be, an employer engaged in interstate commerce and/or the production of goods for commerce within the meaning of the FLSA, 29 U.S.C. §§ 206(a) and 207(a).

7. Upon information and belief, at all relevant times, defendant La Trattoria has had gross revenues in excess of $500,000.00.

8. Upon information and belief, at all relevant times herein, defendant La Trattoria has used goods and materials produced in interstate commerce, and has employed at least two individuals who handled such goods and materials.

9. Upon information and belief, at all relevant times, defendant La Trattoria has constituted an "enterprise" as defined in the FLSA.

10. Upon information and belief, defendant Fady Tawadrous is an owner or part owner and principal of La Trattoria, who has the power to hire and fire employees, set wages and schedules, and maintain their records.

11. Defendant Fady Tawadrous was involved in the day-to-day operations of La Trattoria and played an active role in managing the business.

12. Upon information and belief, defendant Samy Tawadrous is an owner or part owner and principal of La Trattoria, who has the power to hire and fire employees, set wages and schedules, and maintain their records.

13. Defendant Samy Tawadrous was involved in the day-to-day operations of La Trattoria and played an active role in managing the business.

14. Upon information and belief, defendants John Does #1-10 represent the other owners, officers, directors, members, and/or managing agents of La Trattoria, whose identities are unknown at this time, who participated in the day-to-day operations of defendants, who have the power to hire and fire employees, set wages and schedules, and retain their records.

15. Defendants constituted "employers" of Mr. Baten as that term is used in the Fair Labor Standards Act and New York Labor Law.

JURISDICTION AND VENUE

16. This Court has subject matter jurisdiction over this matter pursuant to 28 U.S.C. §§ 1331 and 1337 and supplemental jurisdiction over Mr. Baten's state law claims pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1367. In addition, the Court has jurisdiction over Mr. Baten's claims under the FLSA pursuant to 29 U.S.C. § 216(b).

17. Venue is proper in this district pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1391 because defendants' business is located in this district.

COLLECTIVE ACTION ALLEGATIONS

18. Pursuant to 29 U.S.C. § 206 and § 207, Mr. Baten seeks to prosecute his FLSA claims as a collective action on behalf of a collective group of persons defined as follows:

All persons who are or were formerly employed by defendants in the United States at any time since April 13, 2015, to the entry of judgment in this case (the "Collective Action Period"), who were restaurant employees, and who were not paid statutory minimum wages and/or overtime compensation at rates at least one-and-one-half times the regular rate of pay for hours worked in excess of forty hours per workweek (the "Collective Action Members").

19. The Collective Action Members are similarly situated to Mr. Baten in that they were employed by defendants as non-exempt restaurant employees, and were denied payment at the statutory minimum wage and/or were denied premium overtime pay for hours worked beyond forty hours in a week.

20. They are further similarly situated in that defendants had a policy and practice of knowingly and willfully refusing to pay them the minimum wage or overtime.

21. Mr. Baten and the Collective Action Members perform or performed the same or similar primary duties, and were subjected to the same policies and practices by defendants.

22. The exact number of such individuals is presently unknown, but is known by defendants and can be ascertained through appropriate discovery.

FACTS

23. At all relevant times herein, defendants owned and operated a pizzeria in Manhattan.

24. Mr. Baten was employed at La Trattoria from approximately October 2016 through March 2018.

25. Mr. Baten was employed as a dishwasher and cleaner; he also made deliveries for the restaurant.

26. Mr. Baten's work was performed in the normal course of defendants' business and was integrated into the business of defendants, and did not involve executive or administrative responsibilities.

27. At all relevant times herein, Mr. Baten was an employee engaged in commerce and/or in the production of goods for commerce, as defined in the FLSA and its implementing regulations.

28. For the first eleven months of his employment, Mr. Baten worked a regular schedule of seven days per week for defendants, consisting of five twelve-hour days and two fifteen hour days.

29. As a result, he was working approximately 90 hours per week.

30. After roughly eleven months, defendants reduced plaintiff's schedule; he began working a regular schedule of four twelve-hour days and two 13½-hour days, for a total of about 75 hours per week.

31. Mr. Baten was paid a fixed weekly salary throughout his employment.

32. Mr. Baten was paid at a rate of $515 per week.

33. Mr. Baten received this amount for all hours he worked, regardless of the exact number of hours he worked in a given week.

34. As a result, Mr. Baten's effective rate of pay was always below the statutory federal minimum wage in effect at relevant times, and was also sometimes below the statutory New York minimum wage in effect at relevant times.

35. In addition to his pay, Mr. Baten generally received some tips for his delivery work.

36. However, defendants never provided Mr. Baten with any notices or information regarding the "tip credit."

37. Upon information and belief, defendants did not keep records of all of the tips received by Mr. Baten.

38. Moreover, Mr. Baten spent several hours each day on duties consisting of non-tippable work such as washing dishes, stocking the refrigerator, taking out the trash, and cleaning the restaurant.

39. Defendants' failure to pay Mr. Baten an amount at least equal to the federal or New York state minimum wages in effect during relevant time periods was willful, and lacked a good faith basis.

40. Mr. Baten was paid in cash throughout his employment, and he received no paystubs or wage statements of any sort with his pay.

41. In addition, defendants failed to pay Mr. Baten any overtime "bonus" for hours worked beyond 40 hours in a workweek, in violation of the FLSA, the New York Labor Law, and the supporting New York State Department of Labor regulations.

42. Defendants' failure to pay Mr. Baten the overtime bonus for overtime hours worked was willful, and lacked a good faith basis.

43. Mr. Baten worked six or seven shifts per week that lasted in excess of ten hours from start to finish, and yet defendants willfully failed to pay him one additional hour's pay at the minimum wage for each such day, in violation of the New York Labor Law and the supporting New York State Department of Labor regulations.

44. Defendants failed to provide Mr. Baten with a written notice providing the information required by the Wage Theft Prevention Act - including, inter alia, defendants' contact information, his regular and overtime rates, and intended allowances claimed - and failed to obtain his signature acknowledging the same, upon his hiring or at any time thereafter, in violation of the Wage Theft Prevention Act in effect at the time.

45. Defendants failed to provide Mr. Baten with weekly records of his compensation and hours worked, in violation of the Wage Theft Prevention Act.

46. Upon information and belief, throughout the period of Mr. Baten's employment, both before that time (throughout the Collective Action Period) and continuing until today, defendants have likewise employed other individuals like Mr. Baten (the Collective Action Members) in positions at defendants' restaurants that required little skill, no capital investment, and with duties and responsibilities that did not include any managerial responsibilities or the exercise of independent judgment.

47. Defendants applied the same employment policies, practices, and procedures to all Collective Action Members, including policies, practices, and procedures with respect to the payment of minimum wages and overtime.

48. Upon information and belief, defendants have failed to pay these other individuals at a rate at least equal to the minimum wage, in violation of the FLSA and the New York Labor Law.

49. Upon information and belief, these other individuals have worked in excess of forty hours per week, yet defendants have likewise failed to pay them overtime compensation of one-and-one-half times their regular hourly rate in violation of the FLSA and the New York Labor Law.

50. Upon information and belief, these other individuals were not paid a "spread of hours" premium on days when they worked shifts lasting in excess of ten hours from start to finish.

51. Upon information and belief, these other individuals were not provided with required wage notices or weekly wage statements as specified in New York Labor Law §§ 195.1, 195.3, and the Wage Theft Prevention Act.

52. Upon information and belief, while defendants employed Mr. Baten and the Collective Action members, and through all relevant time periods, defendants failed to maintain accurate and sufficient time records or provide accurate records to employees.

53. Upon information and belief, while defendants employed Mr. Baten and the Collective Action members, and through all relevant time periods, defendants failed to post or keep posted a notice explaining the minimum wage and overtime pay rights provided by the FLSA or New York Labor Law.

COUNT I

(Fair Labor Standards Act - Minimum Wage)

54. Mr. Baten, on behalf of himself and all Collective Action Members, repeats, realleges, and incorporates by reference the foregoing allegations as if set forth fully and again herein.

55. At all relevant times, defendants employed Mr. Baten and the Collective Action Members within the meaning of the FLSA.

56. Defendants failed to pay a salary greater than the minimum wage to Mr. Baten and the Collective Action Members for all hours worked.

57. As a result of defendants' willful failure to compensate Mr. Baten and the Collective Action Members at a rate at least equal to the federal minimum wage for each hour worked, defendants have violated, and continue to violate, the FLSA, 29 U.S.C. §§ 201 et seq., including 29 U.S.C. §§ 206.

58. The foregoing conduct, as alleged, constituted a willful violation of the FLSA within the meaning of 29 U.S.C. § 255(a), and lacked a good faith basis within the meaning of 29 U.S.C. § 260.

59. Due to defendants' FLSA violations, Mr. Baten and the Collective Action Members are entitled to recover from defendants their unpaid compensation plus liquidated damages, interest, reasonable attorneys' fees, and costs and disbursements of this action, pursuant to 29 U.S.C. § 216(b).

COUNT II

(New York Labor Law - Minimum Wage)

60. Mr. Baten repeats, realleges, and incorporates by reference the foregoing allegations as if set forth fully and again herein.

61. At all relevant times, Mr. Baten was employed by defendants within the meaning of the New York Labor Law, §§ 2 and 651.

62. Defendants willfully violated Mr. Baten's rights by failing to pay him compensation in excess of the statutory minimum wage in violation of the New York Labor Law §§ 190-199, 652 and their regulations.

63. Defendants' failure to pay compensation in excess of the statutory minimum wage was willful, and lacked a good faith basis, within the meaning of New York Labor Law § 198, § 663 and supporting regulations.

64. Due to defendants' New York Labor Law violations, Mr. Baten is entitled to recover from defendants his unpaid compensation, liquidated damages, interest, reasonable attorneys' fees, and costs and disbursements of the action, pursuant to New York Labor Law § 198, and § 663(1).

COUNT III

(Fair Labor Standards Act - Overtime)

65. Mr. Baten, on behalf of himself and all Collective Action Members, repeats, realleges, and incorporates by reference the foregoing allegations as if set forth fully and again herein.

66. At all relevant times, defendants employed Mr. Baten and each of the Collective Action Members within the meaning of the FLSA.

67. At all relevant times, defendants had a policy and practice of refusing to pay overtime compensation to their employees for hours they worked in excess of forty hours per workweek.

68. As a result of defendants' willful failure to compensate their employees, including Mr. Baten and the Collective Action Members, at a rate at least one-and-one-half times the regular rate of pay for work performed in excess of forty hours per workweek, defendants have violated, and continue to violate, the FLSA, 29 U.S.C. §§ 201 et seq., including 29 U.S.C. §§ 207(a)(1) and 215(a).

69. The foregoing conduct, as alleged, constituted a willful violation of the FLSA within the meaning of 29 U.S.C. § 255(a), and lacked a good faith basis within the meaning of 29 U.S.C. § 260.

70. Due to defendants' FLSA violations, Mr. Baten and the Collective Action Members are entitled to recover from defendants their unpaid overtime compensation, liquidated damages, interest, reasonable attorneys' fees, and costs and disbursements of this action, pursuant to 29 U.S.C. § 216(b).

COUNT IV

(New York Labor Law - Overtime)

71. Mr. Baten repeats, realleges, and incorporates by reference the foregoing allegations as if set forth fully and again herein.

72. At all relevant times, Mr. Baten was employed by defendants within the meaning of the New York Labor Law, §§ 2 and 651.

73. Defendants willfully violated Mr. Baten's rights by failing to pay him overtime compensation at rates at least one-and-one-half times the regular rate of pay for each hour worked in excess of forty hours per workweek in violation of the New York Labor Law §§ 650 et seq. and its supporting regulations in 12 N.Y.C.R.R. § 146.

74. Defendants' failure to pay overtime was willful, and lacked a good faith basis, within the meaning of New York Labor Law § 198, § 663 and supporting regulations.

75. Due to defendants' New York Labor Law violations, Mr. Baten is entitled to recover from defendants his unpaid overtime compensation, liquidated damages, interest, reasonable attorneys' fees, and costs and disbursements of the action, pursuant to New York Labor Law § 198, and § 663(1).

COUNT V

(New York Labor Law - Spread of Hours)

76. Mr. Baten repeats, realleges, and incorporates by reference the foregoing allegations as if set forth fully and again herein.

77. At all relevant times, Mr. Baten was employed by defendants within the meaning of the New York Labor Law, §§ 2 and 651.

78. Defendants willfully violated Mr. Baten's rights by failing to pay him an additional hour's pay at the minimum wage for each day he worked shifts lasting in excess of ten hours from start to finish, in violation of the New York Labor Law §§ 650 et seq. and its regulations in 12 N.Y.C.R.R. § 146-1.6.

79. Defendants' failure to pay the "spread of hours" premium was willful, and lacked a good faith basis, within the meaning of New York Labor Law § 198, § 663 and supporting regulations.

80. Due to defendants' New York Labor Law violations, Mr. Baten is entitled to recover from defendants his unpaid compensation, liquidated damages, interest, reasonable attorneys' fees, and costs and disbursements of the action, pursuant to New York Labor Law § 198, and § 663(1).

COUNT VI

(New York Labor Law - Wage Theft Prevention Act)

81. Mr. Baten repeats, realleges, and incorporates by reference the foregoing allegations as if set forth fully and again herein.

82. At all relevant times, Mr. Baten was employed by defendants within the meaning of the New York Labor Law, §§ 2 and 651.

83. Defendants willfully violated Mr. Baten's rights by failing to provide him with the wage notice required by the Wage Theft Prevention Act when he was hired, or at any time thereafter.

84. Defendants willfully violated Mr. Baten's rights by failing to provide him with weekly wage statements required by the Wage Theft Prevention Act at any time during his employment.

85. Due to defendants' New York Labor Law violations relating to the failure to provide paystubs, Mr. Baten is entitled to recover from the defendants statutory damages of $250 per day from February 27, 2015 through the end of his employment, up to the maximum statutory damages.

86. Due to defendants' New York Labor Law violations relating to the failure to provide wage notices, Mr. Baten is entitled to recover from the defendants statutory damages of $50 per day from February 27, 2015 to the termination of his employment, up to the maximum statutory damages.

PRAYER FOR RELIEF

WHEREFORE, Mr. Baten respectfully requests that this Court grant the following relief:

- a. Designation of this action as a collective action on behalf of the Collective Action Members and prompt issuance of notice pursuant to 29 U.S.C. § 216(b) to all similarly situated members of an FLSA Opt-In Class, apprising them of the pendency of this action, permitting them to assert timely FLSA claims in this action by filing individual Consents to Sue pursuant to 29 U.S.C. § 216(b), and appointing Mr. Baten and his counsel to represent the Collective Action members;
- b. A declaratory judgment that the practices complained of herein are unlawful under the FLSA and the New York Labor Law;
- c. An injunction against defendants and their officers, agents, successors, employees, representatives, and any and all persons acting in concert with them, as provided by law, from engaging in each of the unlawful practices, policies, and patterns set forth herein;

- d. A compensatory award of unpaid compensation, at the statutory overtime rate, due under the FLSA and the New York Labor Law;
- e. Compensatory damages for failure to pay the minimum wage pursuant to the FLSA and New York Labor Law;
- f. An award of liquidated damages as a result of defendants' willful failure to pay the statutory minimum wage and overtime compensation pursuant to 29 U.S.C. § 216;
- g. Compensatory damages for failure to pay the "spread of hours" premiums required by New York Labor Law;
- h. Liquidated damages for defendants' New York Labor Law violations;
- i. Statutory damages for defendants' violation of the New York Wage Theft Prevention Act;
- j. Back pay;
- k. Punitive damages;
- l. An award of prejudgment and postjudgment interest;

m. An award of costs and expenses of this action together with reasonable attorneys' and expert fees; and

n. Such other, further, and different relief as this Court deems just and proper.
